

Here's what's cookin': Chicken Chow mein

Recipe from: Donna Gina

Serves: 6-10

1 whole chicken 2½ - or so lbs.
3 carrots Sliced + Can of cream of chicken soup.
1 med onion Ringed
3 Stalks of celery Sliced + Corn Starch
¼ lb mushrooms Sliced. + chicken boulion
½ lb Bean Sprouts. Lemon Juice + Soy Sauce
marjoram + Ginger + pepper + Galic Salt.

Boil chicken until done, then debone cut meat into small pieces, put into frying pan, add 1½ c. water + Sliced Carrots + Celery + onion - Cook about 8 min or so until carrots are getting slightly soft. Add All other ingredience + Cover until Bean Sprout (on top) are cooked but not soft. you can add Bell pepper & water Chesnut & Bamboo sprouts or any variation you want. Add Soy Sauce + about a teaspoon of lemon Juice. ½ teaspoon marjoram, Shake in other spices to taste. Add Chicken Soup like it comes out of the can, you can either add 2 cans of Soup + Serve OR the way you ate it - was w/ one can of Soup & in a Small Container add a little water to about 1/4 C, or more Corn Starch, Pour into vegtable — to thicken up the water & Sauce. If the vegtabes are Dry make Sure you add water to them before the Cornstarch. Also before the Cornstarch add 1 tespoon Instant chicken boulion. & then add Corn Starch & heat until it's thickened & turns from white to a clear ~~Colt~~ Color.

If there any thing that you can't understand Call me. I Am not very good at writting it down. Hope it Comes out the way you like it,

Good Luck.
