Chilled Orange Chicken on Romaine

4 whole large chicken breasts
3/4 t rosemary
3 oz. orange marmalade
1/2 T salad oil
8 sm. romaine lettuce leaves

about 6 hrs. before serving or day ahead

1. With sharp knife, cut each chicken breast in half. Remove bones from each chicken-breast half, but leave skin on. In large bowl, with hands, toss halves with rosemary. Cover bowl & refrigerate about 4 hrs. to develop flavor.
2. Preheat oven to 400°F. Arrange chicken-breast halves, skin-side up, in roasting pan, overlapping if necessary. Bake chicken about 45 min. or until fork-tender, basting occasionally with drippings in pan.

3. In saucepan over low heat, heat orange marmalade & salad oil until marmalade is melted. Brush chicken with marmalade mixture. Cover & refrigerate at least 1 hrs. or until chicken is cool.

4. To serve, slice ea. Chicken-breast half crosswise into 1/4" thick slices, keeping slices together in the shape of a breast half. Place each sliced breast half on a romaine leaf & arrange on platter. 8 main-dish servings. 255 calories per
