

Ham Baked in Milt (sauce)

NOODLES

Eggs

Pinch salt

Water (1 tbs. to ea.)
egg

Flour to roll

Mix to soft dough. Roll out to a thin sheet.

Use plenty flour on board. Allow to dry.

Fold and cut in thin strips. Dry thoroughly.

Cook in salted water.

HAM BAKED IN LUICK SEALTEST MILK

Ask the butcher to cut the ham at least 1 inch thick. Unless you know that it is not too salty, it is wise to cover the slice with cold water and heat to boiling in a skillet. If the skillet is much larger than the slice, transfer the ham to a casserole or smaller baking dish for baking. Spread the top with a mixture of brown sugar and dry mustard; rub the seasonings well into the ham. Just cover the ham with milk in which baking soda has been dissolved (only $\frac{1}{16}$ teaspoon to a cup of milk). Bake in a moderate oven (375° F.) for 1 hour. The milk will form a gravy which can be served with the ham.